Shavuot and Our Connection to Israel

In the modern era, the reestablishment of the State of Israel stands also as a testament to the enduring legacy of Shavuot and our collective yearning for a homeland.

By Rabbi Cantor Russell G. Jayne

Leo & Goldie Sheftel Rabbinical Chair | Norman & Beulah Martin Cantorial Chair

For millennia, the Land of Israel has been intricately woven into the tapestry of Jewish identity, serving as both the spiritual epicenter of our faith and also the physical manifestation of our covenant with the Divine. It is a land imbued not only with the echoes of our ancestors' footsteps, but it is also where our history, culture, and destiny converge in sacred embrace. This can be most keenly felt during the Festival of Shavuot which marks the culmination of the Counting of the Omer and commemorates the giving of the Torah on Mount Sinai.

In the Torah, Shavuot is the one festival most deeply linked to the agricultural cycle. Passover is linked to the Spring wheat harvest, but also commemorates the Exodus from Egypt. Sukkot is associated with the Fall ingathering, but also memorializes our wanderings in the wilderness. Shavuot, in the Torah, is only associated with our forebearers journeying to Jerusalem to offer the first fruits of the harvest at the Temple, and thereby expressing their gratitude for the bounty of the earth and reaffirming their commitment to, and covenant with, Divinity. Even once the ancient Rabbis linked Shavuot to the date of the giving of the Torah, its strong agricultural roots continued to underscore the intrinsic link between our spiritual heritage and the land upon which that heritage blossomed. From the covenant forged with Abraham to the Exodus from Egypt and the wanderings in the desert, the narrative arc of our Torah ultimately converges upon the land flowing with milk and honey. Shavuot, therefore, can uniquely serve as a poignant reminder of our eternal physical and spiritual bonds with our holy land and our responsibility to cherish and safeguard those bonds for generations to come.

In the modern era, the reestablishment of the State of Israel stands also as a testament to the enduring legacy of Shavuot and our collective yearning for a homeland. Against the backdrop of centuries of exile and persecution, the return to Zion represents the realization of our age-old dream. This year, as we celebrate Shavuot, we should rejoice not only in the spiritual rejuvenation that occurred at Sinai but also in the miraculous physical rejuvenation of our ancestral homeland, a land that pulsates with vitality, innovation, and the spirit of potentiality. Yet, our connection to the Land of Israel must transcend mere geography or geopolitics. It must be a connection forged in the crucible of our shared history and faith traditions. This is a land that has borne witness to our triumphs and tribulations, our joys and sorrows. It is a land that calls out to us with the promise of renewal and redemption whether or not we are physically there.

As we gather this year with family and friends to celebrate Shavuot, I hope we will all pause for a moment to reflect on the sacred bond that unites us with the Land of Israel. I also hope that we will rededicate ourselves to the timeless values of justice, and compassion that have sustained our people throughout the ages, and that were nurtured in that same sacred soil. Let us pray for the peace and prosperity of the land and all who dwell thereon. May this Shavuot be a time of joy, unity, and spiritual renewal, as we draw inspiration from our rich heritage and look forward with hope to a future guided by the light of Torah and the promise of the land.

A Look Back and A Look Forward

The real prize is knowing that members have helped their fellow congregants.

By Susan Inhaber

Commissioner, National Minyan League

The summer Shofar article always straddles two National Minyan League years. It gives us a chance to look back on the year and to look forward to the next season. This article is a little different because it covers June and the season has two months left to go.

One of the divisions seems to have a runaway winner, but the photo contest in the March Shofar could upend this result. Another division has a very tight race for the prizes that will be up for grabs. Of course, we always say the real prize is knowing that members have helped their fellow congregants. I'm proud to say that, again, we missed very few full minyanim, enabling those who needed to recite Kaddish the opportunity to do so. This is mostly with thanks to our dedicated minyannaires, both Platinum and members of the National Minyan League.

Like the season before, the ninth one was conducted entirely as a hybrid model. Most people attended by Zoom with a few more people venturing into the synagogue. We still hope more people will attend morning services in person, because we had very few full in-person minyanim this season.

Please continue to watch for any changes regarding the delivery of our daily services.

As usual, there are many people to thank. First, I'd like to thank Rabbi

Russ who keeps everything together, ensures that we are following the proper halacha and always davens beautifully. His mentorship and guidance ensure that there is a strong cadre of people who can competently lead the services, especially during his absences and days off.

I would also like to thank our other daveners who give so willingly of their time to lead, each in their own unique, and beautiful way: Lorie Abernethy, Lou Bracey, Ari Cohen, Judy Chetner and Maxine Fischbein. This is a flexible and accomplished group who chip in, even at a moment's notice, to cover if someone cannot do their shift or are experiencing technical difficulties. We welcome Josh Orzech and Mireille Klaver to this group. If you would like to join as a davener, please let us know! We always need more people on the team.

This is also a good time to thank the wonderful captains of the NML: Karen Phillips, Lilah Silver, Mireille Klaver, Maxine Fischbein (x2), David Inhaber, Bev Silverstone, Linda Garshman, Leib Zeisler, Marni Besser, Sheila Katz & Linda Gutman, Yossi Suissa, Judy Chetner, Walter Moscovitz, Lorie Abernethy, Jason Gurevitch and Deb Silver. Most of these people have been captains since the inception of the NML. All of them do their best to wrangle their teams and are faithful about showing up on their assigned days and in many cases, much more often. I must add that we truly miss Evelyn Sheftel-Shapiro<sup>z'l</sup> and the enthusiasm that she brought to each day's services. Though the Silvers are embarking on a new journey, Deb has informed me that she would like to continue as captain of her team. I hope that Lilah does too.

I might do some "team juggling" to even the playing field for teams that are lighter on points. Please watch for updates!

I am fortunate because I know I can depend on Sheila Katz, Cheryl Shiell, and Karen Phillips to take attendance for me when I am away. They also step in when I have a meeting or am under the weather. With such a great team, I know I can take time off when I need to and that points will continue to be awarded as earned.

Next, gratitude goes out to Jennifer Girvitz and Jennifer Preece in the office. They keep me on my toes, which I often need, and they print out the schedule to post on the wall by the chapel. Linda Dow publishes NML news in our publications, creates ads, and often suggests ideas for my columns. Linda has also offered her assistance, more than once, to help me with the various tasks that I do. Their behind-the-scenes assistance is invaluable.

I truly appreciate that Karen Phillips has taken over the reminder emails. She has done an amazing job making them new and personal. Thank you, Karen, for all of your work.

Thanks to Robert Preece and Adi Charikar for everything they do inside the building to keep our rooms clean and prepared for services. This year, I'm adding Ken Hillaby to my thank you list. He worked hard to create an easier way to keep track of the constantly-changing standings. He also manages the NML budget line.

I must also thank David Inhaber for his behind-the-scenes assistance in allowing these staff members to assist in any way I need them. David spends so much extra time at the shul to be a second person in the building for the Rabbi and to open the doors, start the livestream and Zoom meetings and to troubleshoot as needed. Of course, his constant support and love are very much appreciated and help keep me going.

The final, and perhaps the largest, thank you goes to all of you: the members who have attended services this year! We have a group of people who have committed to attending regularly. It is often thanks to this group that we can provide a minyan for congregants who are reciting Kaddish for a loved one. We are so grateful to these people for performing this mitzvah on a regular basis. Thank you to everyone who attended on their team days. This has also been essential in enabling us to achieve the necessary quorum. Some of the captains have also made an effort to join us whenever possible to help boost our numbers. You are all making a big impact on the everyday life of the members of Beth Tzedec Congregation. Remember, to receive a prize with your winning team, you must have attended during at least six different months on your team's day.

This season, we gained a few new players, some just recently and some after they lost a loved one. We welcome them and wish them and their families much comfort.

If you are someone who comes to say Kaddish for a loved one and are not on a team yet, we would be so pleased if you would join us. New graduates of the Keruv class are also most welcome. The commitment of once a month is not onerous and we understand that there are times when attendance is not possible. If you can't commit to once a month, perhaps you could become one of our Platinum Minyannaires, joining us whenever you have an opportunity to do so.

Keep your eyes open for people who could potentially join our teams; we have some teams that could use the support.

As a way of showing our appreciation to our local National Minyan League players as well as our Platinum Minyannaires, we will again be hosting our annual National Minyan League Celebration on Sunday, August 18. Click here to register. Last year's dinner was a huge success and I know this year's will be, too. Jennifer Girvitz and I are already planning the menu!

I'm sending virtual hugs to the whole congregation and an extra one to the NML members and our Platinum Minyannaires. It is always fun to visit during the daily minyanim and during our various events. Be well and stay safe, strong and healthy, now and always.
